

Anthropological Forum

Australian Anthropological Society Annual Anthropology Essay Prize

Each year, the AAS offers a prize for the best anthropology essay published in an Australian journal in the previous year. The prize is $1000 together with a waiver of the registration fee for the annual AAS conference and a free conference dinner at which the prize is awarded.

2009 AAS Essay Prize

The winner of the 2009 Essay Prize is:

Will Rollason for his article

Counterparts: Clothing, Value and the Sites of Otherness in Panapompom Ethnographic Encounters which was published in Anthropological Forum 18 (1).

Click on the article title above to receive free online access for 2010.

