The American Statistical Association (ASA) and Taylor & Francis are pleased to announce a new publishing partnership between the two organizations. As of 2012, Taylor & Francis will publish six journals on behalf of the ASA:

- Journal of the American Statistical Association (JASA)
- The American Statistician (TAS)
- Journal of Business & Economic Statistics (JBES)
- Statistics in Biopharmaceutical Research (SBR)
- Technometrics<sup>1</sup>
- Journal of Computational and Graphical Statistics (JCGS)<sup>2</sup>

Through their new partnership, the ASA and Taylor & Francis aim to expand the global reach and readership of these publications, to achieve the highest possible levels of accessibility through rapid publication and continued affordable pricing, and to maintain the high quality of the publications' content and presentation.

According to Kevin Bradley, President, Taylor & Francis USA, "I am extremely pleased and proud to be working with the American Statistical Association and to welcome these excellent publications to the T&F family. The high quality of the ASA titles, combined with T&F's outstanding production and author services and our global marketing and sales reach, will certainly make for a winning partnership."

"Disseminating statistical research through journals is a key part of the ASA mission," said Ron Wasserstein, Executive Director. "The hard work and professionalism of our journal editors, associate editors, editorial collaborators, and authors in producing the highest quality statistical journals, combined with the global capacity and expertise of the Taylor & Francis team, will increase the reach of our journals, furthering the ASA's role in promoting the practice and profession of statistics."

In 2012 and beyond, the ASA and Taylor & Francis will continue to offer the journals by subscription, as well as offering access via the Taylor & Francis Library <http://www.tandf.co.uk/libsite/tandflibrary/>. ASA members will continue to receive JASA, JBES, JCGS, SBR, and TAS free of charge with their memberships. The ASA maintains its copyright ownership and control over journal pricing.
